After the rally we have seen in recent years, many investors fear that the stock market is slowly approaching maturity. Especially growing political uncertainties such as the risk of a trade war between China and the US or political turmoils in Italy could rattle markets in the near future. Nevertheless, as long as macro-economic indicators remain positive so does the general outlook for the European stock market.

For security-oriented investors who expect moderately rising prices of the European benchmark index EURO STOXX 50®, the USD Europe Bond 110% represents a suitable investment opportunity. The capital protection of 110% at the end of the term equals a yield of 1.92% p.a. In addition to the minimum return of 10%, the certificate offers the opportunity for redemption at 130% of the nominal value if the EURO STOXX 50® index quotes 10% or more above its starting value at the final valuation date. This certificate has a term of 5 years. For further details on risks and opportunities please see the following page.

FUNCTIONALITY

At the initial valuation date the starting value (closing price of the EURO STOXX 50® index) is determined. At the end of the term, the starting value is compared to the index closing price at the final valuation date. If the EURO STOXX 50® index quotes at least 10% above the starting value at the final valuation date, redemption is effected at 130% of the nominal value. Otherwise the capital protection of 110% applies and redemption is effected at 110% of the nominal value, resulting in a return of 10% at the end of the term. At the final valuation date one of the following scenarios occurs:

SZENARIO 1: Index quotes at least 10% above the starting value at the end of the term

Investors obtain the amount of USD 1,300 per nominal value at the maturity date if the EURO STOXX 50® index quotes at least 10% above its starting value at the final valuation date. This amount represents the maximum redemption amount.

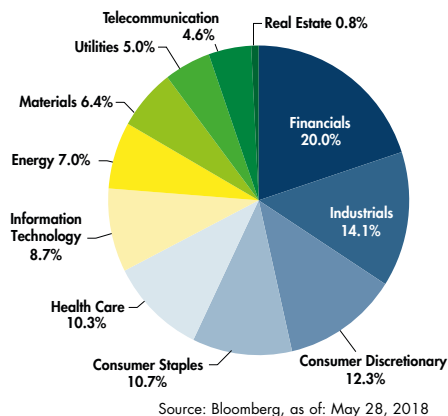

SZENARIO 2: Index quotes less than 10% above the starting value at the end of the term

If the index performance at the end of the term is lower than +10%, the capital protection of 110% applies and redemption at maturity is effected at 110% of the nominal value. This payment equals USD 1,100 per nominal value.
